The European PhD Hub helps universities, companies and PhD students to efficiently contribute to the knowledge-based society of tomorrow. It is the single online resource to conduct impact-driven research at a local and European level.

OUR OBJECTIVES

- Internationalise doctoral training
- Improve knowledge transfer mechanisms
  - Increase research opportunities
- Contribute to a single European area for research, education and financing
- Identify complementary and alternative funding sources

ARE YOU A COMPANY?

- Unlock your access to one of the largest marketplaces for research and easily contact specialised PhD researchers in a range of research areas.
- Launch calls for cooperation based on your very own research and development needs.

- Strengthen your links with academia at local and European level according to your strategic research interests.
- Recruit young talents and innovate. The PhD Hub enables you to further enrich your research and development unit.

Through the European PhD Hub, your company can easily get in contact with highly skilled PhD hub candidates who could potentially conduct research in your area of interest.

The PhD Hub will help you build partnerships for PhD education across Europe. You will be able to attract the most talented PhD prospects who will engage in intensive cooperation with companies at local and European level.

ARE YOU A UNIVERSITY?

- Extend your outreach and benefit from multiple funding opportunities by cooperating with private and public organisations at local and European levels.
- Provide PhD students career perspectives beyond academia by strengthening ties with business and industry clusters.

- Internationalise doctoral education by cooperating with academic and business partners across the continent.
- Support impact-oriented research.
- Facilitate the knowledge transfer from academia to society and significantly increase your university's influence.

Via the PhD Hub, you can find research and career opportunities. Connect with numerous public and private organisations that will facilitate your journey towards a PhD degree!

ARE YOU A PROSPECTIVE PHD STUDENT?

- Access a wide range of open PhD positions in different research areas.
- Find new funding opportunities to do a PhD, at local and European level.
- Boost your transversal competences by conducting research in a stimulating corporate environment.
- Detect clear career perspectives.
